Term 3 2019

In Term 3, students learnt about computers, Australian history, Medieval history, math, grammar, urban art, and historical recount writing. After learning about art and history we enjoyed an excursion to Perth City to for a tour about urban art.

In addition to the excursion, students had exciting lessons including learning about the Bushranger Ned Kelly, making Aboriginal Art, and creating an interactive power point about the geography of Australia and Western Australia.

For many students the lessons about map skills really helped them to navigate in the city during the excursion. After the excursion we enjoyed 2 weeks of school holidays where many students explored the city more on their own.

Urban Art and City Tour Excursion

Urban Art tour in Perth

On Wednesday September 18th, we went on an excursion to the city.

First, Ms. Crane and Ms. Duong took us to the city on a public bus. When we arrived at the city, a woman named Adie brought us to see a lot of paintings in the laneway. My favourite piece of artwork was the girl wearing clothes that looks like a wolf. I think it's cute and beautiful.

Second, we went to different shops to buy our lunch. WE ate lots of different food like chips, malatang, banh mi and burritos and we bought a lot of bubble tea. Lastly, we went to the Art Gallery of WA to see how the paintings were different from the laneways. In Perth, the Art Gallery of WA and the WA museum are free museums. The day was sunny in the morning, but then it became very rainy when we went back to school. We were so tired from the tour and all the walking! It was great exercise.

I liked the excursion because I learned how to use the public bus to travel into the city and I saw many beautiful works of art that are part of Perth. There are so many free and beautiful things to see and do in the city like Kings Park, Art Gallery, museums, the State Library, etc. There is so much to explore in the city and delicious food from all over the world. The excursion was a great opportunity to discover the city. —Sicheng

Weekend Recount

Last week, I went shopping with my parents. We bought fruit and vegetables. I did my homework in the afternoon. I ate dinner with my friend. I felt happy because I ate dinner with my friend. On the weekend, I saw a movie at home. I woke up at 11 am, then I ate breakfast and brushed my teeth. I stayed at home all day. I felt happy because it was a good TV show. Next, I read a book. After that, I played computer games. Then I listened to music. I like to listen to English music now, but before I liked Chinese songs more. In the afternoon I ate a good dinner with my parents. After that I just played on my phone. I went to bed at about midnight. It was a relaxing, but fun weekend. The best part was eating dinner with my friend.

Living in a Homestay

Hi! My name is Dian. I'm in year 9. I have lived in Australia for four months. Since my parents are living in Viet Nam, I have to live in a homestay. Everything in the beginning was difficult because the culture in Viet Nam is different from Australia. I had to spend a few weeks adapting. Luckily, my host is very kind and she is used to having a lot of international students in her house, so she can understand my circumstances easily. She cooks very well, especially she can cook some Vietnamese dishes. In the morning, she always prepares lunch for me to bring to school. Then in the evening, my host family and I sit and have dinner together. My homestay has a cute dog so when I am bored, I can play with her. Because I am under 16 years old I am not allowed to use the stove. Living in a homestay is comfortable and you can also improve your English skills there. —Dian
